

Brewferm Royal Bubbler - 5 l

The Brewferm glass carboy with wide mouth is your ideal fermentation vessel. The jar's wide opening makes it easy to reach inside the jar to add and remove ingredients or clean every inch of the inner surface. The glass surface does not scratch easily, so these jars are easy to sanitize and do not harbor bad odors or flavors. They can provide decades of great performance if you handle them with care.

Now with new and improved lid. This specially engineered lid ensures a perfect airtight seal for your precious brews. This new lid has an opening of 38 mm. You can mount an airlock in the opening of the bung to allow carbon dioxide released during fermentation to escape. The airlock and the silicone bung 36/44 mm with 9 mm hole are available separately (not included, see accessories). Picking up the glass carboy is uncomplicated thanks to the nylon strap handles that are included.
