Brewferm maisch paddle 45 cm

Are you looking for a practical, budget-friendly mash paddle? Look no further! The Brewferm mash paddle's optimal length and shape make it the perfect tool for stirring grains (or must). The shape of the mash paddle keeps the mash from clumping, while the double-ended design makes the mash paddle suitable for use with casks with a large mouth and bottles with smaller mouths (such as carboys).

Additionally, one end is spoon-shaped for adding sugar or extracts. The mash paddle also has a hole to hang it from for hygienic storage.

- Double-ended for use with both large and small-mouthed casks and bottles
- Optimal length (45 cm)
- Equipped with spoon for sampling
- Stirrer with holes to let grain pass through and prevent dough balls from forming in the mash
- Food grade
