

Brew Monk™ All-in-one brewing system

The Brew Monk, the Holy Trinity: mashing, filtering and boiling in one kettle! New matte finish results in a stylish and contemporary design.

The Brew Monk is an automatic all-in-one, stainless steel brewing system, capable of effortlessly brewing up to 30 litres of wort. You control and monitor the mashing process through the programmable controller with tilted digital display. Thanks to the integrated malt pipe with telescopically adjustable malt screens, you no longer need a separate tank for filtering.

With a capacity of 2,500 watts, which is 25% higher than current kettles on the market, you bring your filtered wort quickly to the boil.
